

P A M E L A Q U I N N
movement consultant for people with
PARKINSON'S DISEASE

In response to my offerings of quotes from Martin Luther King, here's a story I received from a friend who attended Brooklyn Academy of Music's celebration of Dr. King. I hope it stays with you.

---

"The BAM celebration of Martin Luther King Jr. was quite wonderful. A crowd of the faithful lifted the roof over a story, a song, a memory, a name, a tear --

Many speakers had a way of making something old and familiar feel new and shiny. And the ability to turn a phrase...

For example: Someone told of seeing a homeless person living on the street with a sign saying IMPOSSIBLE. The teller of the tale spoke of being unsettled by the message...so much so that he found it on his mind at odd times. One quiet day he realized he was seeing the word in memory - Not as one word, however, but as two: IM POSSIBLE.

Nothing changed, yet everything changed.

Call it hope?"

©2016 Pamela Quinn | 450 North End Avenue New York, NY 10282

Web Version

Forward

Unsubscribe

Powered by Mad Mimi®
A GoDaddy® company